

Puff Collection

Designed by Saskia Huebner for Normann Copenhagen

A New and Modern take on the Classic Rice Paper Lamp

The Puff Lamp Collection is a modern and sculptural take on the traditional rice paper lamp, designed with organic and simple principles in mind.

The Puff Lamp Collection honors one of the oldest traditions within lamp making in Asia. Rice paper lamp shades have been used for centuries and have originally adorned the halls of temples. It was also a trip to Japan that sparked the inspiration for the Puff Lamp Collection, where designer Saskia Huebner saw endless variations of the rice paper lamp. This became a motivation to find the right balance between sculptural playfulness and functional minimalism and resulted in a collection that invites you to arrange different voluminous shapes in a playful matter. Puff is thus suitable for the large hotel lobby, restaurant, or a small private room.

Voluminous but Light

The rice paper material makes it possible to create immense volume, without wasting unnecessary material or creating a heavy, inconvenient design.

The rice paper allows for a natural, warm light, as it gently shields the light source from being too bright and overexposed. The lamps thus submit a soft light, while appearing like organic sculptures in the given space.

Puffed-up Balloons

The lightweight material and design also create a visual notion of puffed-up balloons ranging in four different shapes and sizes, which consequently inspired their individual names. The collection consists of a Bulb shaped lampshade, with the name accentuating its form and lighting function. This variant is available as a pendant.

Twist is characterized by two circles merging into one. This member of the collection is available as both pendant and table lamp.

Bubble has a charming silhouette, resembling a little, joyous character, which is available as both pendant and floor lamp. Multitude has, as the name implies, multiple circles intertwining in its design, making it perfect for placing in a corner to create a cozy nook. Whether space is limited or abundant, the Puff collection can accommodate any given space.

A white textile cord with socket and canopy can be purchased as an add-on for the pendants, so it matches the lampshades. The floor lamp and table lamp are equipped with a cord and have a powder-coated steel base with foam underneath, protecting the floor and tabletop. A small passageway for the cord has been implemented underneath the base allowing the cord to nicely follow the surface to the power outlet.

The Puff Lamp Collection suits both minimalistic interiors and more daring private residences and commercial spaces with the common wish for a new and modern interpretation on the classic rice paper lamp.
